TII has announced a revised emerging preferred route for the proposed Luas line, which represents a significant departure from the route outlined at this time last year. Limited information on the revised proposal was shared last Monday with Highfield RFC and other potentially impacted parties. A closing date of 12 June has been set for submissions on the proposed changes.

Highfield RFC will undertake a thorough review of the full scope and implications of the revised proposal, engage with its membership, and respond accordingly through the formal submission process.

For a club that has served its community for almost 100 years, it is clear that the proposal raises serious operational, safety, and security concerns that may threaten the club's long-term viability. These issues require detailed examination and further consultation. The club will engage with TII to seek clarification on the proposed changes and is committed to preparing a comprehensive submission within the agreed timeline.
